

CONGRATULATIONS! YOU FOUND IT!

What is this hidden container sitting here for? What is this thing doing here with all these things in it?

This is part of a worldwide adventure dedicated to GPS (Global Positioning System), called Geocaching.

A geocache basically involves a hidden "treasure" (this container and its contents). The exact GPS coordinates are published so other GPS users can come on a "treasure hunt" to find it.

The only rules of geocaching are:

1. If you take something from the cache, you have to leave something for the cache
2. Write about your visit in the logbook.

This is also an extra special NINJAcache!

It was created by a martial arts master, (from Vision Martial Arts) to promote habits for living a healthy lifestyle, and to help students train for their Black Belt ...and create Ninjas! (but that's a secret)

So there are also ninja training challenges (see secret attached pages), which promote habits for living a healthy lifestyle. Try as many as you want, and earn ninja stars!
